COMPANY PROFILE

ABOUT ADELAIDE TARP SPECIALISTS P/L

Adelaide Tarp Specialists P/L was first established in 1979 by Tony Pavlovich, who has remained associated with the transport industry and the manufacturing of tarpaulins and specialised load covering systems since 1968 to the present.

Tony has always been an innovator and one of the mainstays of the tarpaulin manufacturing industry in South Australia for nearly 50 years having been responsible for the training of a great many of people in the industry today.

Adelaide Tarp Specialists Pty. Ltd. has grown to become the most innovative and flexible load covering manufacturer in South Australia producing excellent quality innovative products at very competitive pricing

In the late 90's, laws for tipper operator/drivers became an issue with the need for the fitting of ground operated tarpaulin to vehicles becoming a priority to cover RTA requirements initially, but the more important issue of Occupational Health Safety and Welfare in relation to operator safety, and limitation of safe operating heights has now become the focus with significant penalties for operators who do not comply.

Adelaide Tarp Specialists P/L took this news in its stride and developed its own metal fabrication/engineering department. This was done to create time saving for companies that were required to meet deadlines while tarp systems were being fitted to their trailers as well as allow for further research and development of specialised covering systems for a broader range of bulk carrying equipment.

Over the years, Adelaide Tarp Specialists P/L had developed the Roll-A-Way and the Winch-A-Way tarp systems. Both are fully ground operated and waterproof. These systems not only met strict Safety Guidelines, but increased drivers productivity by increasing loads per day by nearly 25% compared to the old tipper tarps that were manually handled.

Changes were made, and for those not requiring a waterproof system, the Side Cable Winch-A-Way was created for those who needed fast operating systems without having to worry about ropes and rubber rings. Still maintaining the quality and style of the waterproof system, the Side Cable system became one of Adelaide Tarp Specialists P/L most popular load covering alternatives.

In 2008, Adelaide Tarp Specialists P/L relocated into a larger premises at 662 Port Wakefield Road, Green Fields. This move has not only proved to be beneficial for the company, but also for customer's convenience with very easy access.

Family Owned and Operated, Adelaide Tarp Specialists P/L will provide you with advice on the type of tarp you may require. From Tippers to Sliding Curtains, Boats to Trailers, even household Outdoor Blinds, the friendly staff will try and keep the weather out of just about anything.
